

Hyundai Motor Company has named PPG Industries an approved after-market supplier

STRONGSVILLE, Ohio,— The Hyundai Motor Company has named PPG Industries an approved after-market supplier for its new "Hyundai Global Body and Paint Program." As part of the agreement, PPG will provide its PPG refinish brands, including the popular PPG Global Refinish System, Deltron, as well as Enviro-base and Aquabase waterborne basecoat systems, to Hyundai dealerships and their authorized repair partners.

Also, in close co-operation with Hyundai, PPG has developed dedicated training courses to teach Hyundai dealership paint technicians proper product and application techniques for PPG products. PPG has an extensive refinish training program in place that includes state-of-the-art training facilities and highly trained instructors throughout North America, Europe, Australia and Asia.

"We have worked with PPG to develop this dedicated technical training program, which will increase the quality and efficiency of our body and paint operations worldwide," said Chang-Seok Im, director, overseas customer service group, Hyundai Motor Company. "PPG was chosen because they are the global leading coatings company with proven excellent services."

"We are very pleased to be selected as a partner in Hyundai's innovative program for its dealership repair facilities," said Bill Shaw, director, business development U.S., PPG automotive refinish. "PPG has long been a global leader in coatings, color and innovative technologies, and we believe our high quality performance coatings systems, along with our customer commitment, can more than meet the exacting requirements of Hyundai dealerships and their repair partners."
